

Czech This Out: Becca Miller's Update

Fall 2025

Friends and Supporters,

CISP Update

This semester was filled with lunches with my girls, working with the yearbook class, too many teacher observations to count, and time with coworkers. God is doing so many amazing things at the school, and I am so grateful you are a part of it. Please pray for us to rest over the remainder of our break (which we will have done by the time many of you receive this), and to start the new semester strong.

My one student has returned to her passport country. Please pray for her as she still has not made a decision to follow Christ, that He would continue to call her, draw her, and bring people who speak Truth into her life. Please pray for both her and her brother as God continues to work in their lives. She has returned to her homeland to start her new school, but her brother is with us for another month. Pray that God would use the remainder of the time with him, and that the seeds that are being planted have eternal significance. Pray that God would continue to soften the soil of her heart.

LIFE Update

This has been a full semester with personal things as well. I was able to join friends on a trip to Poland over fall break for pierogis and pottery. I've been able to attend a Bible study on Wednesday with friends from church. I've also continued to serve at church. I was able to spend Christmas Eve and Christmas Day with friends as well as join a few others get-togethers over the break. Unfortunately, I did have to have all four of my wisdom teeth removed, but thankfully, they have healed well. Please pray that as I have concluded my Christmas break and started back to school, that I will be able to begin the new semester refreshed, in good health, and ready to continue serving.

Ways to Pray

- 1) Please pray as I continue to speak truth into the lives of my girls.
- 2) Please pray for continued faithful monthly financial support

- 3) Please pray for my one girl and her brother as they prepare to return to their home country in December.

Continued Requests:

1. Continued prayer support
2. Continued monthly financial support
3. That I would be Salt and Light to the city of Prague
4. That I would be able to encourage and support the families I serve
5. TEACHERS
